

UNLV Journal of Hospitality, Tourism & Leisure Science

AUTHOR PUBLICATION AGREEMENT

1. COPYRIGHT: In consideration for publication of your Work, if accepted and published on behalf of the UNLV Journal of Hospitality, Tourism and Leisure Science (HTL Science), the Author(s) agree to transfer copyright of the Work to William Harrah College of Hotel Administration, University of Nevada, Las Vegas, including full and exclusive rights to publication in all media now known or later developed, including but not limited to electronic database and microfilm, and in anthologies of any kind. (NOTE TO U.S. GOVERNMENT EMPLOYEES: SEE YOUR EXEMPTION, PARAGRAPH 5 BELOW.)

2. AUTHOR RE-USE OF WORK: As a professional courtesy, the authors retain the right to reprint their article submitted again, after publication in the journal, in any work for which they are sole Author, or in any edited work for which the author is Senior Editor. No further permission is necessary in writing from William F. Harrah College of Hotel Administration, UNLV, nor will the College require fees of any kind for the reprinting. This statement is intended to provide full copyright release for the purposes listed above, and a photocopy of the release may be used when another Publisher requires a written release.

3. AUTHOR WARRANTIES: The author(s) represent(s) and warrant(s):

- a. that the manuscript submitted is his/her (their) own work;
- b. that the work has been submitted only to this journal and that it has not been previously published;
- c. that the article contains no libelous or unlawful statements and does not infringe upon the civil rights of others;
- d. that the author(s) is(are) not infringing upon anyone else's copyright.

The authors agree that if there is a breach of any of the above representations and warranties that (s)he (they) will indemnify the Publisher and the Editor and hold them harmless.

4. AUTHOR RETENTION OF PATENTS: the author(s) may have, within their article, descriptions of their own proprietary patents. It is not the intention of the Publisher or the Editor to require copyright transfer of such materials. If any of these materials appear in the work, the authors may add their personal copyright notice to patents, with this understanding:

- a. the author(s) retain copyright for said patents, with full and exclusive rights to their publication, not to include any other material from the article/publication;
- b. the Publisher retains full and exclusive rights to publication to the article/publication in any format, including patents when published as part of the entire article or publication;

c. photographs are considered part of the acceptable manuscript and remain with the Publisher for use in additional printings.

5. NOTE FOR U.S. GOVERNMENT EMPLOYEES: If the article is single-authored by a U.S. government employee as part of his/her official duties, it is understood that the article is not copyrightable. It is called a "Work of the U.S. Government." However, if the article was not part of the employee's official duties, it may be copyrighted. If the article was jointly written, the authors understand that they are delegating the right of copyright to the nongovernment employee, who must sign this agreement.

6. "WORK FOR HIRE" AUTHORS: If the article was written by an author who was hired by another person or company to do so, the article is called "Work for Hire" manuscript. This agreement must then be signed by the "employer" who hired the author, as well as the author.
